THE RSCM CAROLINA COURSE AT SAINT MARY'S SCHOOL

David Hill, Music Director

Widely respected as both a choral and orchestral conductor, David Hill's talent has been recognized by his appointments as Chief Conductor of the BBC Singers and as Music Director of the Bach Choir and Southern Sinfonia.

He took an organ scholarship under the direction of Dr. George Guest at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he later became Director of Music. Other significant posts have included Master of the Music at Winchester Cathedral, Music Director of the Waynflete Singers, Master of Music at Westminster Cathedral, and Artistic Director of the Philharmonia Chorus.

David is in great demand for choral training workshops worldwide, and his handbook on the subject "Giving Voice" was published in 1995.

David Hill's discography includes over 70 recordings, including many award-winners. He has appeared as guest conductor of many prestigious choirs and orchestras.

Join us for an extraordinary week of music making

In residence on the beautiful and historic campus of Saint Mary's School, the Carolina Course for girls and adults features outstanding choral repertoire, a marvelous music staff, and thrilling closing service venues, offering an unforgettable week of singing, worship, education, and fun.

The 2013 Carolina Course will be the subject of a full-length documentary about RSCM America training courses, which will be filmed throughout the week. Girls will enjoy inspiring and challenging rehearsals, as well as enjoyable recreation with friends. Workshops will be offered for adults on a variety of topics, including the Voice for Life choir training program.

Closing services will be held at St. Michael's Episcopal Church and Duke University's magnificent chapel.

Visit the Carolina Course website for registration forms, the repertoire list, and more detailed information.

David Arcus, Course Organist

As Duke University Chapel Organist and Associate University Organist, David Arcus plays nearly two hundred services a year in Duke Chapel, where he also accompanies the Duke Chapel Choir. David is also Organist of Duke Divinity School.

A graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and the Yale University School of Music, David is active as a recitalist, having concertized in the United States, as well as Great Britain, France and Germany. He has composed both choral and organ music, with works published by Concordia, Hinshaw, and Wayne Leupold Editions.

David's skill as an improviser at the organ has been recognized internationally. He is in demand as an organ clinician, having taught at national and regional conventions of the American Guild of Organists.

David is married to the Rev. Robin Arcus, producer of a feature length documentary based on the 2013 Course.
